The success of the group will depend on the cooperation and professionalism of its members. Teachers will expect you to know how to work effectively in groups: how to determine what needs to be done; how to find information; how to assess information; how to share the workload; and how to resolve interpersonal conflicts that might arise. Effective collaboration includes, but is not limited to:

- Participating fully (in spirit and actuality).
  - Participating professionally (i.e., civil discourse; abiding by the rules of academic honesty).
  - Meeting responsibilities (i.e., completing assigned tasks on time and to the best of your ability).
  - Taking the consequences of not abiding by the group's rules.
  - Giving group members appropriate credit where due.
  - Not giving credit where it is not due.
1. After reading this document, each member signs the document at the end. Each group member agrees to show up to class and to outside group meetings on time.
  2. In the event that a group member is less than five minutes late, s/he may quietly join the group without disrupting it to ask what s/he missed.
  3. Group members who are avoidably late must buy pizza/give snacks.
  4. A group member who is absent more than 4 times will be dismissed from the group, unless special circumstances apply such as corona.
  5. If a member submits plagiarized material and/or cheats, the group agrees to bring this to the teachers' attention immediately.
  6. Each member agrees to familiarize him- or her- self with and abide by DTU's rules for Principles for good scientific conduct.
  7. Members agree to treat one another with respect. Respect includes no name-calling. If you do not like an idea, address the idea, not the person (for example, "I don't think that idea will work because..." not "That's stupid"). In the event that a group member treats someone inappropriately, s/he will bake an apology cake.
  8. In the event that a group member or members are dominating the group, it is the timekeeper's job to politely interrupt them (this is when you can interrupt) and ask that someone else speak.
  9. Members will adhere to their assigned responsibilities. If members are not able to complete an assignment, they will inform the rest of the group immediately and seek help.
